FUSB GIVES COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AWARDS

THOMASVILLE, AL – First United Security Bank recently held its annual Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) Training, where several of the bank’s employees and officers were recognized for their involvement in community development activities.

The activities that were awarded were specific to the purposes of affordable housing, economic development, rehabilitation and stabilization of neighborhoods and community services and occurred during 2013. Employees were recognized because they either helped secure a loan, offered a community service, (such as financial education) participated in the analysis of a valuable investment, or ensured the integrity of our CRA data – all of which benefit the communities we serve.

“I appreciate the community development work of each of these employees,” said James F. House, CEO/President FUSB. “Their attentive support of their community makes a big difference, not only in our reputation, but also in complying with the Community Reinvestment Act.”

“It’s a privilege to work with our staff on all levels to serve our communities,” said Mel Ann Sullivan, CRA Officer/Director of Marketing. “The positions these professionals hold range from tellers and customer service to senior level managers to consumer and commercial lenders, and I value their contributions.”

The following employees and officers of the bank were recognized: Patti Greenwood, Mary Kelly, Jennie Morris, Mischelle Grogan, Stephanie Carden, Rosie Moore, Belinda Pruitt, Brandi Scarborough, Lynn Allday, Stephanie Harrell, Patricia Sellers, Kenyatta Holifield, Sam Parks, Sonja Brown, Eric Mabowitz, Gail Bagley, Daley Strickland, Onnie Dudley, Brian Bertella, Lydia Kearley, and Rachael Johnson. These employees were given a letter of recognition from the President/CEO, a token of recognition, as well as a certificate of appreciation.
