First United Security Bank Donates Printers to Thomasville Elementary School

THOMASVILLE, AL – First United Security Bank recently donated two printers to Thomasville Elementary School. The HP LaserJet 8150s, combined, are valued at approximately $1,000. The printers were not compatible with the new computers that the Bank is installing, but still could be of use to the school system.

“We are so thankful for community partners who are willing to donate equipment in support of our children,” said Sandra Williams, Assistant Principal.

“It’s truly a privilege for First United Security Bank to partner with our schools in every way that we can,” Mel Ann Sullivan, Community Development/CRA Officer said. “Thomasville Elementary’s 30 plus teachers serve approximately 500 students in this community where the Bank operates. If providing these printers can save the school a few dollars, save teachers a few steps, and support the education of our children, we are proud to invest in this way.”
